A long, grey metal container with a solar panel array on its roof. The container has a large glass window revealing white shelving units inside. It is situated on a concrete pad.

A large green building with a gabled roof and an open bay door. A white car is parked inside the bay. The building is surrounded by trees and other structures.

A row of blue solar panels mounted on a structure in the background, likely a greenhouse or another building.

A fenced area with a concrete pad in the foreground. The fence is made of chain-link and topped with barbed wire. A utility pole with a light fixture is visible near the fence.

A stack of several blue metal containers, likely used for storage or as part of the facility's infrastructure.
