

EASTLEIGH BOROUGH COUNCIL

Ivy Lane and Rosemount Court, Hedge End – proposed ‘No Waiting at Any Time’ restrictions

Statement of Reasons

Ivy Lane

It is proposed to introduce “No Waiting at Any Time” within the bell mouth junction of Ivy Lane and the A27 in order to address the inappropriate obstruction of the pedestrian/cycle crossing point which runs along the A27. This inappropriate use results in a higher risk to drivers, cyclists and pedestrians using this junction and crossing point.

To address these issues it is proposed to introduce “No Waiting at Any Time” restrictions within the junction bell mouth. By this method it can be ensured that all users are visible to each other thus reducing the likelihood of a collision.

Rosemount Court

It is proposed to introduce “No Waiting at Any Time” within the bell mouth junction of Rosemount Court and the A27 which regularly has parking at the junction bell mouth and either side of the Rosemount Court access. This inappropriate use results in a higher risk to users of this junction.

To address these issues it is proposed to amend the existing ‘No Waiting at Any Time’ restriction and indicate where drivers may wait within bays. It is proposed to prevent waiting within the junction bell mouth as well as across the access and opposite the access to Rosemount Court. By this method it can be ensured that drivers do not obstruct junction access.
